We will have a panel of speakers explaining the State Water Planning Process in Texas. The panel will include Sarah Backhouse, Wayne Wilson, Tony Smith and Gary Westbrook. They will also explain how Region G planning, which Post Oak Savannah GCD is a part of, ties into the State Water Plan.

Sarah Backhouse

Wayne Wilson is chairman of the Brazos G Regional Water Planning Group. Brazos G is charged with developing a comprehensive regional water plan covering a 37 county planning area, which is incorporated into the State of Texas Water Plan.

Wayne Wilson

Sarah Backhouse is the Manager of the Regional Water Planning Department at the Texas Water Development Board. Sarah oversees one of the state's regional water planning programs.

Gary Westbrook, Post Oak Savannah GCD is the Region G voting representative for GMA 12. The Brazos G Regional Water Planning Area includes all or parts of 37 counties.

Gary Westbrook

Mr. Smith is a water resources engineer with 24 years of experience leading projects investigating water supplies, modeling water availability, systems for clients throughout Texas. He is the project manager of the technical consultant teams for the Region D and Brazos G regional water planning group.
